The Atlantic took its station on the ground with cemmendable promptitude, but it was a long time before even the fire was kindled in her furnace, and a still longer time before able threw any water. There appeared to be some serious defect in her management. One of the men was running round in the crowd trying to borrow a match to light her furnace, and finally got a light from the gas lamp. The Weston Democrat has a contributor who far excels the arithmetic man of the New York World. He figures through a column of tables and finds that the Democrats will carry all the Congressional districts of the State at the coming election by the following majorities: 1st district, 384; 2d dist., 51; 8d dist., 4383; the majority in the State being 4798. Two years ago, it will be remembered, after the election, the Register's arithmetician figured out a Democratic majority of three thousand—a little mistake of about eight thousand, which he never corrected. The rebel leader, Remblia, has been attacked and routed by the loyal guerrillas in the Puerto Principe jurisdiction. The fight hasted an hour and a half. Sixteen Spannards and forty-six Cubans were killed. Seven of the remaining men of the second Upton expedition, were captured and jailed, at Holquin.

The rebel Col. Luno was killed. Owing to the heavy arrivals of corn the market here is flooded, and prices have declined.
